

Fifty Cars Beans Of Prime Quality Move To Markets

Celery Propagators Working On An Improved Celery For Glades

Beans rolled in from the Glades area fields, on Monday, so that when the FPC special pulled out for Ft. Pierce on the evening run there were 50 cars full of the engine. This number easily would have been 25 cars larger had the growers been able to secure pickers to gather the beans. Labor is short, and a call for more laborers, was sent out over the radio. Large shipments prevailed the night of this week.

Bean prices so far have been quite satisfactory, ranging in price from $2.50 up to $6.00, mostly moving around the $4 to $4.50 mark. The general quality of beans coming in is prime, the best for several seasons, and free from wind blown spots, and the yield is good. Big biddings are expected to continue for several weeks.

A automatic control system has been installed on the water tank at the water plant and made a big hand in making a constant supply of water throughout the system. With this control the water level of the tank is regulated and the water is held at a more constant level.

GEORGE WALZ OF FPCA ADVISES FARMERS TO WATCH BORROWING

Secretary-Treasurer, George F. Walz, and Paul R. Seller, the Secretary-Treasurer of the FARMERS PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION, have returned from a district credit meeting of the executive committee of five production credit associations in the Southern Florida Section.

The outlook for farmers, some of the problems facing farmers, and the importance of credit in modern farming, were the principal topics of discussion at the conference.

Mr. George F. Walz said "wherever possible a farmer should keep in reserve some of the 1948 income to partially finance 1949 crops and thereby keep from borrowing any more than necessary consistent with good farm management and wisdom. This is especially important now since the margin between prices received by farmers and the costs of production may not be as much as they have been in the past few years."

Elks Add Five New Members To Its Increasing List

November class initiation ceremonies were conducted at the Elks Lodge session, Monday night, when five new members, J. C. Betts, William McClatchey, Bill Graber and Marcus L. Hooker, formed the nucleus of a new class, with the right to wear the garters. The team work was excellent and the class was received on merit.

The memorial ritual was used in memory of Lou W. Currier, who died of a heart attack on Saturday, and a most beautiful tribute was given by Walter Hooker, in his memory. The local lodge will send down a delegation of a dozen members to participate in the Elks golf tournament at Ft. Lauderdale, Ted Pope, chairman of the Entertainment and Social Committee, will be in charge of the event, which will be held on November 27th, at which there will be a cash prize followed by dancing and cards.

Official visitation of District 27, which was held on Tuesday night, November 23rd, to the local Elks was invited. A barbecue is to feature the after lodge period.

Past Exalted Ruler A. E. Kirschner, represented the lodge at the Ft. Lauderdale visit of Grand Exalted Ruler, Ed O. Williams, who was invited by request of Mr. Williams, Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, Ludwig, of Ft. Myers, representing the coast district, and respecting Williams' own lodge.

Upon the recommendation of House Committee, and approved by the Local 27, the Entertainment Committee, will be a power of its own hereafter. The local Elks are invited independent of the club activities.

The lodge boys had quite an amusing dissection of O. H. Hay's report of his recent speech hunt in the Dakotas. There was some tendency to attack the nimrod's reply.

City Will Crackdown
On Motor Traffic
Speed Violations

In the face of the fact that motorists are not inclined to regulate themselves to traffic requirements, such as speeding and running red lights, the heads of the Police Department have decided to inaugurate a new program of a drastic nature in an endeavor to protect property and life.

Heretofore police officers have been checking and warning cautioning drivers, but from this time on, offending motorists, will be given tickets to appear in court, and to check the record of the police regulations will be put into force.

More traffic is appearing on the streets as a result of the opening of the crop season, and the police are asking co-operation, in the way of more care and attention to the traffic laws. Far too many serious accidents have been recorded heretofore for the past few years, and to check the record, the police regulations will be put into force.

Lou Currier, Sr., Meets Death From Auto Accident

Was a Well Known Citizen. Eduator and Farm Operator in Palm Beach County

Belle Glade now records another fatal accident to its list for on Saturday afternoon, around 4:30 o'clock, Lou W. Currier Sr., well known Delray citizen, and local farmer, sustained injuries which caused his death later at the Belle Glade Hospital. Currier was driving westward on Avenue E in his coupe, along with two negro farm hands, when he crashed into a heavy semi-trailer loaded with beans, driven by Julio Corso Guidino, of Tampa.

The force of the contact threw Currier from his car to the pavement, but developments at the hospital showed that he had been operating trucks in this area for 15 years and this was his first accident. He pleaded that he was watching the stop light, and thought Currier was too, and that was what caused the crash.

Constable Whitely, arrested the Tampa man and a coroner's jury was formed in Justice George Tedder's court, where evidence was presented. The lower portion of his abdomen was crushed.

Rams Will Meet Delray Beach In Last Home Game

Tonight the Belle Glade Golden Rams will clash with the Delray Seahawks, on Memorial Day, at the Delray Beach stadium, the last home game of the season. The Rams are favored to win by the experts, but the Seahawks will have watching as they have proven tough for the Rams for the last two seasons.

The locals won over Lake Worth last Thursday night by a score of 26 to 6 while earlier in the season the Trojans triumphed over the Seahawks 29 to 0. This gives the Rams the edge according to scores but this is not always a sure thing as anything can happen in a football game. Coach Cooke has put his boys through this week with emphasis on conditioning, blocking, tackling and perfection of plays. The starting line up for the game will be the same as usual. The Rams will meet the Delray Seahawks in their home field in Jacksonville on Saturday night for extra expenses for the boys.

Criminal Case Against Delray Beach Team Dismissed In Court

Charges against Woodrow Lamb and Charlie Jones, Delray Beach young men, who allegedly took a joy ride with a tractor owned by N. N. Staring, were dismissed in court when it was found that the tractor was free from custody, as the County Solicitor notified the case against them in Criminal Court, on account of insufficient evidence, owing to the disappearance of material witnesses.

Freight shippers within Florida territory, won't have raised against them, as petitioned for by the three main railway corporations. The Railway Commissioners at Tallahassee on Wednesday, denied them a requested 38 percent raise. The Board did however, trim the increase granted last April, but only in part.

The Bell Telephone Company has also denied the increase rates which it was seeking from the same board.

They furnish inspiration to the team, tackle assignments, he just reaches out and gets a handful of shoes and legs. Christian Science
Church Opens Its
New Reading Room

First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Belle Glade, announces the opening of their new public reading room at 235 West Avenue A, on Friday November 19th, at 11 A.M.

This reading room will be open on weekdays from 11 to 4, and Saturday evenings from 7 to 9.

Here the King James version of the Bible, the writings of Mary Baker Eddy and all authorized Christian Science materials may be read, borrowed or purchased. The public is cordially invited to use the facilities of the Reading Room.

"This 'dumpling to the canners' isn't as bad as it sounds; literally beans are dumped from the hampers in bulk, thus saving the cost of hampers to the farmer. The price, if the beans are being 'dumped to the canners' is a small profit over actual costs. Quality beans are good for some hampers, according to the brokers of the community."

Farmers are a very cooperative group. They are always ready to help each other. After they were loaded and driven to the way to Belle Glade, the farmers had paid the toll for the truck-loads of pickers, and it is part of a vast program that we plan to sustain, provided the new capital can be obtained for the next season. "Vicious Libel"
The government, in the course of a suit against the railroads for alleged overcharges on freight shipped during the war, has attempted to belittle and discredit railroad men who were charged with the tremendous responsibility of superintending a task of unprecedented scope and difficulty. This attempt has been characterized as "vicious libel" by the president of the Milwaukee Road, who then gave some facts on just how the war freight was handled.

At the request of the government itself, a committee representing the railroads was established. This committee worked with government agencies to establish rates, and its function was approved by the assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division. In no case was the rate charged the government higher than that charged commercial shippers, and in most cases it was substantially less.

In many instances the government rate was as low as 50 per cent of the going commercial rate. And in every case the rate met with the approval of government officials.

On occasion, the large gross revenues earned by the railroads during the war are cited as evidence of excessive rates. What those revenue figures do not show are the heavy taxes and operating costs of the period. The railroads' net return on investment during 1941-45 was actually less than 5 per cent.

For some mysterious reason, an industry which performed miracles in the support of the allied war effort is now being vilified by the government which agreed to raise which it now questions. The people should know the truth.

News Of Belle Glade Negro Schools

By Negroes—For Negroes

Friday was quite a busy day for teachers and students at the Lincoln Vocational High School. This marked the third Home-coming Game of the school.

Everyone was getting ready for the big parade which started at 5:00 P.M., leaving the school and passing through downtown Belle Glade. The climax was the kick off at 8:15 in the Memorial Stadium, when the "Bobcats" clashed with the DeLay Eagles before a record breaking crowd.

During the half the drill team and band gave a splendid performance. In spite of a few showers, everyone watched the "Bobcats" win the game by a score of 20 to 6.

We are indeed grateful to the Lion's Club for having sponsored our game and for contributing to the success of our Homecoming activities.

phones in the three years since V-J Day as it did in its entire history prior to 1940. During the full period to 1940 Florida gained 123,000 Bell telephones as compared to 132,500 since V-J Day.

Along with the increase in the number of telephones in service has come a corresponding increase in the number of local and long distance calls. For example: During February, 1948, the number of local calls each day averaged 1,453,600 as compared to 2,309,000 during February, 1948. And the number of long distance calls originating in Florida during the month of February, 1948, were 2,142,000 or more than 55 per cent greater than February, 1945.

In order to provide the expanded service for Florida since V-J Day and to handle the heavy increase in both local and long distance traffic, major additions have been made to the number of buildings and to all other facilities required in furnishing telephone service. Fifteen new buildings have been constructed, and 18 others substantially enlarged in the State since V-J Day, adding 328,000 square feet of urgently needed floor space.

Simultaneous with the enlargement of the buildings, additional central office equipment has been installed which together with the outside cable installations, has permitted the gain of 132,500 telephones since V-J Day. Many Floridians have seen the major extensions being made to the underground conduit systems which carry the large underground cables. Literally hundreds of box car material items have been installed in Florida this year, being part of the largest underground conduit program in the history of the state. And, in addition, hundreds of reels of cable, ranging in size from 16 to 2121 pairs, have been pulled in and spliced. In fact, over 2 billion 600 million conductor feet of cable, enough to stretch around the world almost 30 times, has been installed during the past 21 months in order to help meet the continuing and increasing demands for telephone service.

"This program is taxing the full resources of the telephone people to the limit," Mr. Dooley said, "but an all out effort is being continued to furnish every one service who desires it and to furnish the grade of service all our subscribers desire."

The characters were as follows: Father Bear, who was Richard McLeod; Mother Bear, who was Maxine Schuch; and a long dress and apron with a long kerchief tied around her head. Baby Bear was Billy Joe Leathers who was dressed in a little blue sunsuit and was barefooted. Goldilocks was played by Junior Walker who was dressed in a short dress which was just long enough to show his lady pantaloons. His head was covered with yellow crepe paper curls. Junior Livingston read the story while the play was being enacted. It followed the regular "Tree Bears" story to a certain extent but was more comical and ended with Baby Bear and Goldilocks falling in love with each other. It was a huge success and was enjoyed immensely by all.

Up in my old home county of Trumbull in Ohio, which at one time was a rock ribbed bastion of Republicanism, in the recent election it went Democratic by more than 15,000. Only one old Republican candidate escaped the Democratic landslide. The county has become an industrial one, and the labor element, caused the swing in political thought and action.

Indications are that the proponents of the north Florida cross canal, are showing an attempt to mass up a south Florida all coverage flood and conservation program.

turn in my grave." Shortly after he passed away.

In about two years she followed away from the earth and going to heaven. When she came to the golden gate she asked the gate keeper if he knew her husband. The keeper thought a minute and told her "no" because he couldn't remember any faces because so many people passed through the gate every day. Trying to be helpful the wife told the gate keeper about her husband telling her "that he would not be in his grave if she ever kissed another man." The keeper thought a moment and then his face lit up and he said, "Lady I don't know what his name is but we call him 'Tumbling Tom' up here."

In a recent issue of the magazine Florida Wildlife, Edwin E. Buckner, Inc. catches a rare and unusual story entitled, "Night Riders of the Glades," which was a graphic description of the life of the frog hunters, whose center of activities is located in Palm Beach County. The story relates that frog hunting has gone modern, with fast boats, new equipment and good markets. More than 300 frog hunters are organized in a protective association, for mutual aid to its members.

These skip boats, which are motor propelled, can travel far and go most any where on land and water and over obstacles of traffic. While their daily or nightly catches are not as heavy or bring as much money as formerly, the froggers still make good living by securing a run of the mine price of 70 cents a pound, and as high as $1.25 for selected and fancy dressed frogs. Frog catches vary from an average of seven to thirty pounds a night. Several buying firms in West Palm Beach buy all frog offerings, quick freeze and package them, and fill orders from all over the country. Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and New York are the main markets, but Miami is also a good customer city. Many Semmes now work the wilderness of the Glades for frogs.

Kind of tough for an honest and competent "grid" official to turn in a good job, only to have to take the brunt of a disturbance and blows that were intended for another official.

The people who find hospice in the Glades migratory laborers are living for more comfortable than does labor in other sections of the country. Everyone sometimes has troubles, and this is times in the Glades, but even with these gripes, the patrons know they are getting more for their money in the Glades and accommodations than they would ever get elsewhere, in or out of a camp.

Our state and county police were right on the job at that fatal Lake Harbor accident. Officer Kaufman sure did make that 20 mile stretch from Pahokee to Lake Harbor faster than Sherman's troops went down the Winchester Valley during the civil war, in doing so he was answering a call to duty.

What is doing with the Belle Glade choral society, which produced two excellent programs last year? Many hope that it will again be functioning again this season.

The packing house section of Belle Glade no more appears like a western ghost town, but more like a thriving and humming manufacturing center. Produce going out by rail and truck means more money for all engaged in the business. Money had decidedly been scarce in the Glades this summer, and an influx of the coin of the realm will be appreciated by all concerned.

And still that miserable highway between South Bay and Clewiston remains in an ever deplorable stage. What's matter State Road Department? That stretch of road is on credit to your department or the State of Florida. Let's fix it up!

The political logjam is all over, and the finding is, that the Republicans did unwillingly from an onslaught of Democratic votes. Many Congressmen and Governors will be hunting new jobs.

The 1948 football season is on the wane, and millions of people have enjoyed the thousands of games that have been played over the nation. The Glades people continue to be excellent patrons and rooters for their school teams. Indian teams are that the game at Pahokee on Wednesday night, November 24th, will see the largest patronage on record for these inter-city games. Belle Glade bleachers are to be moved to Pahokee for the season ending game. Take your choice between the Blue Devils and the Golden Rams and wait the outcome. Both teams will be out for blood and a rugged game can be expected between the Cooke and Alley teams.

Belle Glade already well stocked with churches, is to have another one of the Nazarene denomination. Each small church with its following adds just that many more people attending church on Sundays.

It was noticeable that there were few flags flying in Belle Glade in observation of National Armistice Day, and but a few of the business houses closed their doors for the holiday.

Our last home game of football comes at Memorial Field tonight, when that fighting team of Seaboard, of Delray, come up to match skill with our Golden Rams. Should be a hot and well played game. The closing game of the season comes on next Wednesday night, November 24th, at Lair Field at Pahokee, where the Rams and the Blue Devils stage their annual combat. The record turnout of the season, is expected in attendance at this game.

Have you started to count up the benefits you have received during the past year, so that you can make suitable thanksgiving on that national day? Sure we ought to take sufficient time away from feast to attend the annual community Thanksgiving services.

A local dealer last week received a shipment of the finest fishing tackle that he had since before the war. They were of various weight and length, and sure were prime offerings. Sure we ought to take sufficient time away from feast to attend the annual community Thanksgiving services.

FIFTY CARS OF BEANS—

 pursued at Lubeca, N. Y. Florida celery growers, are very likely to have a new breed or type of celery, which will be resistant to blight, and will not need spraying services as is now required.

The joint growing experiment has been going on for the past ten years, and each year has shown various angles of improvement. Dr. W. W. Ruprecht of Sanford, has been a man interested in the deal, and is now in Ithica working on same. Oscar Brown, of the Eastern States Farmer's Exchange at Springfield, Mass., noticed in his celery varieties, a peculiar carrot like variety which did not show any blight lesions. He later crossed these with a Cornell U. and the hybrid seed produced was the starting point of this extensive breeding project. Samples of the plants were sent to both the Sanford and Belle Glade stations for further study and experiment, and that is where Dr. Townsend came into the picture, when in 1941 he found four varieties which remained free from the Cercospora blight lesions, and these were crossed with Cornell 19. Dr. Ruprecht states "If the developments proceed as expected I think it is safe to predict that within a three year period we will have Celery varieties which can be grown without fungicidal sprays."

Looking over his Pahokee gardens, H. L. Speer, assistant county agent, discovered that he had two types of snails on the place. One was the large tropical snail common to the south end of Florida, which scientists hunt for collection boxes, very brilliant in varied colors. The ones he has, specimen of which he has on exhibit in his office, are of the purple and yellow color. The other type snail is that which citrus orchardists have found very valuable, as they eat scales off of the scale carrying trees.

That the bean season is in full force now, is assured, for there is bean picking prices and the appearance of the harvest at Pahokee, are sure indications.

The County Agents office in West Palm Beach and Belle Glade no longer have anything to do with the Labor problem, as the Government has wholly placed that work back into the lap of the State Employment Bureau, one of which is located in Belle Glade. For near three years "Prof" Speer was the head of this work, and did a pretty satisfactory piece of work.

Some farmers were out on the hunt of pickers the first of the week and that was where the break on the picking price broke, and in some instances 80 cents the hamper was offered. There is not much labor in the area to meet demands, and those who do work, take their good old time on how much work they turn out in a day. If they can get enough money for food to fill their bellies, then heck on what the farmers lose, by their indolence.

TECHNICAL VIOLATIONS BRING INDICTMENTS TO GLADES SHIPPERS

Ten firms in the Okeechobee area have been indicted by the Federal Grand Jury in Miami for alleged avoidance of freight tariffs by the failure to declare the proper amount of ice placed in refrigerator cars leaving this area. The total amount claimed avoided by these firms is a bit over $2100, over a period from December 1945 thru 1947.

The tariffs for movement of freight over U. S. Railroads is about as understandable as Mr. Einstein's Theory, or the principle of the "fissure" involved in the Atomic Bomb. It customarily takes a hasty conference of three or more life-long expert students of these tariffs to decide when, where, how and subject to further scrutiny of shippers and other conferences.

There's a rule, with the weight of Federal law behind it, that ALL ice put into cars should be declared and any coverage above the set allowance be declared and freight paid on it. In warm weather ice is some times put into cars during the day, and by the time the car leaves, melting has accounted for considerable ice. Ice is ordered and put on the platform to be used progressively as the car is loaded and melting accounts for considerable weight before the ice is used. In warm weather, on the necessary addition of more ice.

It is these conditions, say the brokers, that have brought about these technical violations. There is no apparent intention to deliberately violate the law, according to information available.

The indictments, seemingly, are based on information obtained from shippers on records now which have been surreptitiously kept or withheld.

In the past three years $55,000,000 of new construction in Florida for More and Better Telephone Service

Since V-J Day more than 132,500 new telephones have been added, bringing the total to more than 356,000 Southern Bell telephones now serving the State

The phenomenal growth of telephone service in Florida since 1945 is a story of unceasing, all-out effort of telephone folks to meet the increasing needs of this state. Consider that almost as many new telephones have been added in the past three years as were in service in Florida in 1945!

But that's only part of the story... the number of telephones doesn't just grow by itself. Look at the associated growth that had to take place in order to add and serve these telephones.

Since V-J Day, 15 new buildings have been constructed and 19 buildings substantially enlarged providing more than 327,735 square feet of additional floor space. And central office equipment has been installed making possible a greater expansion of service facilities throughout the state. A very large number of new long distance circuits have been added to handle more calls more quickly. Floridians are making a monthly average of 2,142,000 long distance calls which is 55% greater than in 1945. The daily average of local calls made by our Florida customers is 2,809,000 as compared to 1,453,000 in 1945.

Yes, Florida's telephone service has really grown—not only in the but in value as well, for you can now call many more people and many more can call you. But in spite of the increase in business, telephone earnings continue to be dangerously low. This is because the amount of money paid out to furnish you service has increased at a faster pace than the amount of money taken in.

Southern Bell's greatly increased investment in Florida is evidence of our faith in the state and its people. Future expansion and improvement of the service will require many more millions of dollars of new money. This will have to be financed, as in the past, with money furnished by investors who may be expected to provide the necessary capital, only so long as they receive a fair return on their money. That's why it's so necessary that telephone rates be sufficient to pay today's increased operating costs and provide a reasonable return to those who have invested their savings in the business.

Telephone rates in Florida are not sufficient to meet today's costs and assure the Company's ability to render good service. That is why we are now before the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission seeking such rates as will enable us to continue to provide you with good and dependable service.

LOU W. CURRIER SR.
jury held Giddino to the County Grand Jury, on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, and he put up a cash bail bond of $2000, and was given his release. The jurymen were Messrs. Layfield, Leila, Hill, Pike, Parrish and Knight.

Lou Currier, was 54 years of age, and was an native of Tennessee. He was a graduate of college and also held a MA degree from the University of North Carolina. He took up teaching as a profession, coming from Chattanooga in 1922, to become the principal of the Delray schools for three years, then engaged in business, but for many years past has been engaged in agricultural work, both at Delray and Belle Glade. ### Inland Routes Getting Increased Flow of Tourist Business

Indications are that northern tourists who desire to reach central and south Florida points are coming into the state from other points than Jacksonville, which has always been known as the main gateway to Florida. As a result, traffic on No. 1 Jacksonville to Miami, is way below former record, and a bowl is going up from the road side merchants.

The inland cities along routes 41, 17 and new Federal route 27, report ever increasing traffic over those highways. Report is also that the inland cities such as Lakeland, Sebring, Lake Wales, Bartow, are getting more permanent service visitors. West coast cities report jammed conditions already, and are experiencing a record season so far, with many thousands more booked up on registration.

New Old Fellow Lodge Formed At Sebring

Grand Master T. C. Thompson, of Hollywood, is conducting a successful campaign this year, in establishing over the state new Old Fellow Lodges, and the upbuilding of membership of the old ones, and in April expects to report to the Grand Lodge at West Palm Beach, an unprecedented record.

He has already instituted a new lodge, and on November 22nd, will attend and institute Sebring Lodge, No. 47, which will start out with 50 charter members. It is that date the Grand Master and his staff, members of the Grand Lodge and Exemptment, and Patriarchs Militant will be present to assist the ceremonies.

The Spanish speaking lodges of Tampa will be present and will confer the degrees of the order, at the Boat House Auditorium. Nelson Albright will be the Noble Grand and Buckey Kahn, secretary. A Rebekah lodge will soon be formed.

Plenty Game Is Reported For The Florida Hunters

The 1948 hunting season in Florida opens Nov. 24, and with plenty game reported, Ben Morgan, game warden, estimates is expecting 10,000 hunters out on the opening dates. This season the period for hunting will be uniform all over the state. Morgan also states that fishing licenses issued this year have gone far ahead of any former year. With the constitutional amendments adopted, which will provide forestry departments in each county, he has a new advancement of conservation of forests, which will aid the game and fishing interests.

Browning Moves to Avery Bass Block With His Store

E. H. Browning, who about a year ago opened a small wholesale grocery and fruit store on Lake Drive, finding his quarters too small for his purposes, has leased the Avery Bass store on West Avenue A and Fifth Street, formerly known as "Jimmy's" store, and has moved his business to that location.

Hurricane Judgement Granted
Harry Lee, of West Palm Beach, and who operates a store in Belle Glade, in circuit court was granted a judgement against the Lumberman's Mutual Insurance Company, for $3500. Lee sued to recover hurricane damage sustained in 1947.

Six people were injured in this wreck. It happened because neither one of the drivers would concede right of way.
